Dehumanizing Creativity Exposed

The artwork reveals and integrates, through medium and subject, three artistic development branches of the author: analog painting, digital frame-by-frame 2D animation, and beatloop creation using the PO-137. This project aims to expose the dehumanization we face in our daily routines, living as biomechanical beings subjected to a cycle of work and consumption. Despite their potential to uplift society, art and creativity also frequently succumb to dehumanization, where creators are treated as interchangeable parts within a mechanized system.

ARTWORKS

Wise Bonsai Tree

The "Wise Bonsai Tree" embodies the essence of "FANTASIA" by portraying a vivid narrative where the nurturing care of a child transforms a simple seed into a magnificent, floating bonsai tree—a symbol of adventure and boundless imagination. This artwork resonates deeply with the theme, as it visualizes a 2024 filled with fantastical possibilities and the power of youthful dreams and creativity to uplift society. In this envisioned world, the child and the bonsai tree share a unique bond that transcends the ordinary: their combined energies unlock new realms brimming with magic and potential. The floating bonsai serves as a beacon of hope and wonder, illustrating how art and creativity are vital forces that can elevate our spirits and society as a whole.

Dreams of Eden is a day-dreaming AR installation of acrylic paintings, an intuitive translation of the Four Stage Model of creativity, described by Graham Wallas. ARTWORKS

Peony Offer

Art and creativity have the incredible power to uplift our society, transcending mere visual beauty to evoke deeper reflections on human connections and the transient yet enduring nature of life. Through my piece "Peony Offer," I aim to bridge the realms of art, nature, and technology to create an immersive experience that invites viewers to appreciate the harmonious fusion of these elements. By freezing a moment in time with a hand offering a flower through what seems to be an impossible barrier, I seek to convey the timeless beauty of nature and the intricate web of human connections. This artwork challenges us to value beauty in gestures, transitions, and the complexities of life, prompting a conversation on the transformative impact of art on our perception of the world around us.

ABSOLUTE INTELLIGENCE

There is nothing without me, only through me is everything, even the artificial intelligence that tries to say the word BE. You have seen what and how he creates on Earth and how on Mars. There is always decay (death). JUST LOVE YOURSELF AND EVERYTHING WILL BE FINE. This is my very gentle command that you fight with yourself and never with another. Amen.
